La Cumbre del Clima termina con el compromiso de «vernors más a menudo» y «no dejar pasar tanto tiempo»

Con un día de retraso y negociaciones hasta última hora, la cumbre de Glasgow culminó el pasado viernes con dos claros compromisos: «Tenemos que vernors más a menudo» y «Esto hay que repetirlo». El recién nacido Pacto del Clima de Glasgow reclama a los países que «no dejen pasar tanto tiempo», pues «aunque dé pereza organizarlo, luego merece la pena». El vicepresidente de la Comisión y jefe de los negociadores europeos, Frans Timmermans, resumía así las conclusiones del encuentro: «Ha estado bien». Aseguró que «se ha hablado de todo un poco, muchos se han puesto cara, que ya era hora, y al final se ha apuntado bastante gente».

Paula Badosa se convierte en la primera ex de Broncano en ganar Indian Wells

El cómico y presentador David Broncano está de enhorabuena. Tal y como informaba el diario La Razón esta mañana, la tenista Paula Badosa se ha convertido en la primera ex de la estrella de La Resistencia en ganar Indian Wells. «Aún sigo en shock. No pensé que fuera a lograrlo y, sin duda, me da ánimos para el futuro. Espero poder salir pronto con la próxima ganadora del Abierto de Australia o, puestos a soñar, del Roland Garros. Pero bueno, hay que ir pareja a pareja... primero hay que empezar algo y luego romper, que no es fácil. Hoy toca celebrar», declaraba esta mañana Broncano.
